Armies in Death Grip

First Considerable Conflict of War at Fistic--Shells Fall Like Hail--Allied Forces Check Germans--Believed Battle Impending Between British and German Fleets.

London, Aug. 13.—Britain to-day awaits news of great happenings at sea and on land, where her forces and those of her allies are in contact with the enemy. Official information received here has led to the hope that the German fleet has taken the offensive, as it was expected it would when the first decisive land battle impended.

Everything points to the probability that the allied armies of England, France and Belgium are in a death grapple with the Kaiser's army of the Meuse, which has advanced from Liege in the direction of Brussels. The allied troops are believed to be at least equal in numbers to the German force, and confidence is felt that they will be able not merely to check, but push back and, perhaps, smash the invading army.

German Losses at from Eight to Ten Thousand.

London, August 13.—A despatch from Basel, Switzerland, says.—Following a terrible battle at Muhlhausen, the hospital facilities proved absolutely inadequate to care for the almost incredible number of wounded. Not only are all hospitals filled, but schools, churches, and hotels are occupied to their capacity. Even then it has been found necessary to charter special trains to convey the wounded to Mulheim, St. Ludwig and other towns. The latest estimates place the German losses at from eight to ten thousand.

Heard Heavy Firing from North-east.

Dover (Eng.), Aug. 13.—Heavy cannonading was heard here early this morning, the reports coming from the north-east. The firing lasted an hour.

Fall Like Hail.

Brussels, Aug. 13.—The fighting yesterday between the Belgian and the German armies in the vicinity of Fistic lasted the entire day, and constituted the first considerable battle of the war. It will be known as the battle of Haeben. Shells are still falling like hailstones at 7.30 o'clock in the evening on the roads around Diest. The Belgian and French troops effected a junction south of Brussels.

Local Sleuths get Busy.

"Smart" Work by Amateur Detectives in the Cause of the Empire.

That the citizens of Bow Island are keenly aware of their duty to the Empire was never more strikingly illustrated than by the incident which occurred in town on the evening of Monday last.

A portly, plausible and strange person alighted from the afternoon train, and, in a deep guttural voice with a strong German accent, enquired for the post office. Suspicion was immediately aroused, the usual coupling of strangers from Barlett-way is for the hotel bar. A little later, the suspect was heard enquiring of a citizen whether he was of German origin.—The plot thickens!

Upon learning these facts, and upon reading that attempts were being made to destroy all the same brand and lager beer in the province—a few of our amateur Pinkerton's resolved themselves into a vigilance committee and systematically shadowed the agent of the Kaiser.

Tracing him to the depot, it was discovered that he had deposited two grips, which he asserted were loaded with dynamite. Horror-stricken the committee straightway laid information against the anarchist—for by this time the committee were decided that they were dealing with a dangerous character.

After mature consideration it was decided by the local authorities to demand information from the spy, and if needs be, arrest him for high treason.

The chief of police, disguised as a man in a costume supplied by one of our genteel furnishers, in order to allay any suspicion from the suspect's mind cleverly engaged him in conversation, and finally persuaded him to accompany him (the C.O.P.) to the halls of justice where the suspected German was immediately subjected to a rigid examination by the presiding justice.

The examination brought to light the facts that the suspected anarchist and spy was a Norwegian Lutheran Minister, travelling from Calgary to Swift Current, and that the grips full of dynamite, containing nothing more than a Lutheran and slides which he uses for illustrating lectures.

The vigilance committee then decided to drive him out of town, when it is to be told them that, when

Work for Many in Saskatchewan

We received the following letter yesterday from J. C. Greig, who left Bow Island recently for Carleton Place, a town situated about 200 miles south east of Moose Jaw.

August 11th, 1914.

To The Editor,
Bow Island Review.

Dear Sir—

There are many, no doubt, around Bow Island who would like to have some information regarding the crops and prospects for work in Eastern Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

The crops are poor up to about 20 miles west of Moose Jaw, where they begin to improve, and from Moose Jaw to Carleton Place, about 200 miles, they are first-class. The farmers are looking for men at every station, and continue so now.

The C.P.R. is giving one-cent a mile rate from Swift Current to all points east in Saskatchewan and Manitoba from August 7th to 25th. Farmers can obtain certificates from the Sun office in the morning in time to catch the train leaving Swift Current at 10 o'clock the same morning.

Yours truly,

J. C. GREIG.

In the light of this miserable blunder which led to the abandonment of the plans made to obtain cheap rates for our farmers to points in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, seems almost criminal. We have not yet received any explanation of the mistake neither has any attempt been made to justify the action.

Notice to Farmers.

We will ship hogs on next Wednesday AUGUST 19th, and will pay market price for all your fat hogs up till noon of that day.

Can also handle your fat poultry and Spring Chickens on that date.

We shall soon be celebrating the first centenary of the battle of Waterloo, for it was on June 18th, 1815, that the combined armies of England, Belgium and Prussia overthrew the army of Napoleon the Great, and rid Europe of its great dictator.

History, as we know, has the habit of repeating itself, but, nevertheless, it would be a remarkable coincidence if the Kaiser's attempt at Napoleonism was to terminate in the ignominy of a second Waterloo.

Englishmen and, for that matter, practically all other nations believe that we have in Kitchener, a man, if anything greater than Wellington, and it is a well-known fact that the Kaiser fears him more than any living man. If it falls to Kitchener to assume control of the destinies of Europe, he must be assured that the St. Helena of Napoleon's Waterloo, will be infinitely preferable to the Berlin after Kaiser's, for it is certain that the fortune of war favors the Allies, that Germany's overthrow will be humiliating in the extreme.

In the course of a striking article on the probable results of the war, the New York Evening Post says:

"Dynamites may crumble before all is done; empires change their form of government; but whatever happens Europe—humanity—will settle back again into a position enabling three empires—one of them hostile, another subject, and a third often showing signs of disturbed mental balance—to give, on their individual choice or whim, the signal for destructive massacres."

There is no question that the hope of freeing the world from war is largely bound up with the growth of democracy. There have been wars, wars brought by self-governing peoples, but it is under autocracies that the militaristic ideal has its strongest hold. A complete German defeat now would go a long way towards "settling" the armament business that the world has suffered under.

There is cause for profound satisfaction throughout the British Empire in the many evidences of goodwill to Great Britain which shine through the war clouds in Europe. That Portugal should take sides with her old-time friend is not surprising, nor need it cause surprise if, before the struggle progresses very far, Italy is also bound to the side of Great Britain.

The Troy (New York) Record, in an issue on the eve of war declared expressed itself thus:

"Americans are more interested in the past likely to be taken by Great Britain in the impending European war than in that of any other nation. This is natural, because the constituent countries of the United Kingdom have given America most of its political, its tongue, its customs, its laws and practically all its history prior to 1776. The Englishman, the Welshman and the Irishman is such that, in spite of the fact that the international discourse, a feeling of friendship always is maintained between the United States and the Mother Country."

"It seems likely that Great Britain will gain much by the war and stand far lower than the continental participants. In the first place it has gained important moral victories by the splendid policy of Sir Edward Grey whose efforts for peace, although at first far unsuccessful, have placed the British nation upon a different plane from that of the other nations involved. Moreover, the intelligence of such a strife has drawn together warring factions and parties at home, which were unwilling to make the slightest concession to each other, even at the king's behest. That this war is proved by the fact that many of the Clergy and national volunteers, a week ago arming for a civil struggle, now a offering their services to the empire."

"The imperialist policy seems likely to be demonstrated and strengthened by the war. Great Britain has proved peace lovers in the countries by using every resort to diplomacy to avoid the call to arms."

A London Times editorial says: To the North among people look, to warriors of which they must learn nothing until the last day of the war of naval supremacy has been fought and won. The navy holds in its hands the fate of the Empire and the nation understands their dread responsibility and believes in them to the uttermost. It is quite convinced that when the great day comes they will be victorious.

Very little news of the war is filtering through these days, and the close censorship which is being maintained over the lines of communication leads one to believe that some extremely big and important movements are taking place.

According to the latest despatches Germany is massing large bodies of troops along the Belgian and French frontiers, whilst French and British forces are being hurriedly rushed forward to the assistance of the Belgians.

It is felt by many of the military experts that a general conflict between the opposing nations is only a matter of a few days, frequent skirmishes between the cavalry outposts having already taken place.

Not the slightest news has come as to the whereabouts of the main British fleet, but it is believed that it has the German fleet bottled up among the many small islands north of Holland.

Austria, who hitherto has refrained from declaring war on Great Britain, is expected to do so today.

It is rumored is making extensive preparations with a view to safeguarding Great Britain's interests in the east.

From despatches published in old country papers, however, one would be led to think that England would much prefer Japan remaining neutral.

Edmonton, Aug. 11.—The Government of Alberta, through his Honor the Lieutenant Governor Dwyer, has tendered, through the Secretary of State at Ottawa, an offer to His Majesty's Government, of half a million bushels of Alberta oats, to be delivered free of charge to any elevator on the Atlantic coast. This, so far as has appeared, is the first gift by any province of Canada to the Imperial government.

Edinburgh, Aug. 12.—The Scotsman today prints the story of an eye-witness of the naval battle between British cruisers and German submarines, in which the submarine "U-15" was lost.

The cruiser squadron on Sunday the story runs, "suddenly became aware of the approach of the submarine flotilla. The enemy was submerged, only the periscope showing above the surface of the water. The attitude of the British in the face of this attack was cool and the enemy was utterly misled when suddenly the cruiser Birmingham, steaming at full speed, fired the first shot. This was carefully aimed, not at the submerged body of the submarine, but at the thin line of the periscope."

The gunners were apparently accurate and the periscope was shattered.

"Thereupon the submarine, now a blinded thing, rushed along under the surface, in an attempt to effect destruction from collision with the cruisers above."

The sightless submarine was then forced to come to the surface, where upon the Birmingham's gunner fired the second shot of the fight. This was carefully aimed, not at the submarine, but at the tower, ripping the whole of the upper structure clean and the U-15 sank like a stone.

"The remainder of the submarine flotilla fled."

Aid For Home-Stealers.

From Medicine Hat News.

The very prompt manner in which the Provincial Government has taken what action lies in its power to relieve the home-stealers in those districts in which the crop has failed, is highly commendable.

By being the application near home it might be mentioned that work has been done in the vicinity of the river already on the Elkwater Lake. The municipality concerned is undertaking in a position this year to undertake road work, the provincial Public Works Department has taken the matter in hand and is proceeding to have the road in the first class state of repair.

The government is also understood to be making arrangements whereby the home-stealers will be closed through the force of the district being unable to finance the staff. Vicious it can be said that government aid is not needed it is stated that government aid will be forthcoming.

The government will also endeavor to make arrangements for the payment of interest on the bonds of school districts which are temporarily embarrassed. Instability of pay taxes will not mean the seizure of goods and chattels. Some measure of legal force will have to be used, but of course, but the home-stealers can rest assured that no seizure or sale of any kind will take place.

The Federal government is also all in its power to alleviate the discomforts of the home-stealers. The government is also understood to be to be hoped that the nature of the aid to be extended will be decided upon and quickly put into execution.
